GROUNDHOG DAY – FEB. 2ND

Today Groundhog Day is celebrated in many parts of Canada focusing on the concept of a groundhog coming out of its home in mid-winter to “predict” if spring is on its way in the northern hemisphere. What did he do today? Did he see his shadow and pop back into his burrow predicting 6 more weeks of winter or was there no shadow and spring is on its way.

The Groundhog Day concept became popular in Canada in 1956 when Warton Willie became a household name for his early February “weather predictions”. Warton’s Groundhog Day festival grew as Willie’s fame increased. It became one of the largest winter festivals in Bruce County, Canada. There are also other groundhogs in different parts of Canada. For example, Schubencadie Sam is reportedly the first groundhog in the country to stick its head out on Groundhog Day. Other groundhogs include: Gary the Groundhog in Ontario, Brandon Bob in Manitoba and Balzac Billy in Alberta.

NOTICE FROM THE TOWN OF WAWOTA

With the rollout of residential flood insurance coverage in Saskatchewan, the Provincial Disaster Assistance Program (PDAP) has created informational material that will assist residents of Saskatchewan to understand how this may affect the eligibility for financial assistance under PDAP in the future.

Please visit the Town of Wawota’s website www.wawota.com or Facebook page for a copy of this information.

February Weather Predictions: Feb. 1–4 Sunny but cold;
Feb. 5-9 snow showers, cold; Feb. 10–18 flurries, mild;
Feb. 19-28 snow showers, flurries, cold.

(according to Farmer’s Almanac)

GROUNDHOG DAY

The second month, the second day,
We know is Groundhog Day.
The keeper of the local zoo,
Photographers, reporters, too,
Anxiously await together
Woodchuck’s forecast of the weather.

Each year this time he leaves his hearth,
His home beneath good Mother Earth.
He wiggles out to see the sun
And sure enough - ask anyone -
Should he perchance his shadow see,
Back to his home again he’ll flee.

And that sign’s still the surest thing
Six weeks must pass before it’s spring!

A magician was working on a cruise ship in the Caribbean. The audience would be different each week, so the magician allowed himself to do the same tricks over and over again. There was only one problem: the captain's parrot saw the shows every week and began to understand what the magician did in every trick. Once he understood that, he started shouting in the middle of the show.

"Look, it's not the same hat!" "Look, he's hiding the flowers under the table!" "Hey, why are all the cards the Ace of Spades?"

The magician was furious but couldn't do anything, it was the captain's parrot after all. One day the ship had an accident and sank. The magician found himself on a piece of wood, in the middle of the ocean, and of course, the parrot was by his side.

They stared at each other with hate, but did not utter a word. This went on for several days. After a week the parrot finally said, "Okay, I give up. What did you do with the boat?"

WANDERING THOUGHTS

(as we see them)

Shall we start off our thoughts/comments about the weather again? Cold/warmer/rain/fog/wind – you name it, we are getting it!! After some much cooler temps we thought we were going to have a “balmier” (for January) day on Tuesday. But we had some ice pellets, some rain and a cold wind with gusts up to 80 km/hr. And back into colder weather for the rest of the week and beyond. Makes for interesting driving/walking conditions, and confusion as to what clothes to wear each day!

Today, February 2nd we will find out what the groundhog has to say about whether we will get 6 more weeks of winter or if we can expect an early spring. We guess that it depends on which groundhog you believe or what area of the country he is from – predictions seems to vary. We have had unusual weather this winter so far, thus who knows what the next few months will bring.

If the clouds stayed away and the skies were clear, did you check out the moon on January 30/31? Sources tell us the Moon was in a Waxing Gibbous phase. This phase is when the moon is more than 50% illuminated but not yet a Full Moon. The phase lasts around 7 days with the moon becoming more illuminated each day until the Full Moon. In some parts of the world, lucky sky-watchers got a cosmic three-for-one deal, as the second super-size full moon in a month underwent a dramatic total lunar eclipse on the morning of January 31. According to eclipse experts, “the event marked the first time anyone on Earth had seen this celestial event in 35 years—and the first time it had been seen in the Americas in 150 years. On the 31st, the moon officially reached its full phase at 7:27 a.m. CT. This was the second full moon to occur in a calendar month, an event commonly referred to as a ‘blue moon’. Around the same time, the full moon made an especially close approach to Earth, a phenomenon popularly called a ‘supermoon’. Adding to the space oddity, viewers in some parts of the world also saw a total lunar eclipse on the 31st. When the eclipse hits its peak, the moon’s face can sometimes take on a reddish tone, earning it the moniker of ‘blood moon’.”

In the area of politics, we see the end of the “Brad Wall era” and the naming of the new leader of the Sask Party and now Saskatchewan’s Premier, Scott Moe. And on the USA scene, President Trump gave his first “State of the Union” address. Makes for interesting?? times.

We are sure many who enjoy playing, or just watching, curling on TV have been enjoying the Scotties Tournament of Hearts this week. Now comes the weekend when many will retire to a comfortable couch or chair with “munchies” and “refreshments” close by -- to watch the American Super Bowl. Wagers, we are sure, will be made – Eagles or Patriots??

And lastly, this weekend we will be welcoming our “Holidayayers” back to Saskatchewan, and we did make sure the colder weather would be greeting them!!

SUPER BOWL RECIPES

Broccomole' Dip

(This is like guacamole, without avocados)
2 cups chopped fresh broccoli, cooked & chilled
¼ cup sour cream

In food processor or blender, combine all ingredients, and blend until smooth.
Refrigerate for several hours.
Serve with fresh veggies or baked tortilla chips.

Oven Crisp Chicken Wings

1/3 cup flour
1 Tbsp paprika
1 tsp garlic salt
1 tsp pepper
¼ - ½ tsp cayenne pepper
3 Tbsp butter
10-12 Chicken Wings, tips removed

Cut wings at joints. Preheat oven to 425°F. Make sure wings are dried (with paper towels).
Combine all dry ingredients in plastic bag, shake to mix. Add wings. Cover large baking sheet with foil and melt butter on it. Place wings on pan and turn to coat. Bake 30 min. Turn wings over, bake another 15 min. until crispy or done.

ODE TO HOCKEY MOMS

I'm going to circulate a petition to have a special breed of women inducted into the Sports Hall of Fame ...The Hockey Mom! Is there anyone more dedicated, loving or perhaps downright foolish than the Hockey Mom? The recipient of this exalted honour would not be bound by age, creed or colour. Rather, she would be a valiant woman who could meet all or most of the requirements listed:

1. Can recognize her son under the mask, helmet and equipment – without seeing his jersey number.
2. Can restrain herself for at least 30 seconds when she sees him writhing on the ice after slamming into the boards.
3. Can, with total recall, relate the last minutes of play leading up to each of his goals.
4. Can divide her attention equally between what's happening on the ice and what's happening with little sister at the lunch counter.
5. Can cheer on the individual players by calling them by name.
6. Can console a dejected 8-year old who lost the final game while keeping back a tear herself.
7. Can restrain herself from doing bodily injury to the woman who keeps screaming “kill him” while her son has the puck.
8. Can encase a 50 pound youngster in 20 pounds of equipment in 10 minutes flat.
9. Can tighten skates or tape sticks without having to ask the nearest male to help.
10. Can feel a thrill of pride when she sees her son, who can't travel from room to room without tripping, “deke out” the defenseman.
11. Can acquire a taste for machine-dispensed coffee.
12. Is willing to drive anywhere, anytime, for the sake of the game.
13. Can identify an “off-side” or “two-line pass” without boasting too loudly.
14. Will consent to limit the congratulatory kisses to the privacy of the home.

Yes, Hockey Moms are special people whose time for recognition has come. The then so are Soccer Moms, Swim Moms, Ball Moms, Dance Moms, Band Moms, etc. etc. etc.

Problems with Lack of Snow ...

Parts of the Sahara Desert received rare snowfall in January, with up to 40 centimetres falling in the Algerian desert town of Ain Sefra. That freak snow — only the third time in 40 years — made for some fantastic photographs before melting but would be more welcome in Western Canada, where many areas have now seen less moisture than an actual desert this winter. Snow cover maps of the three prairie provinces show a large section of central Saskatchewan with virtually no snow, while levels elsewhere are generally well below average for this time of year. Agriculture Canada states that soil moisture at the time of freeze-up was poor throughout much of the southern Prairies. Without snow cover, soils are exposed to increased moisture loss. The significant concern at this time with low snow pack is that water supplies will not recharge unless we get significant late winter snow."

QUIZZLE ANSWERS:

1. Catbird Seat
2. Big Stink

Q: What is the meaning of Catbird Seat?
A: The catbird seat" is an American English phrase used to describe an enviable position, having the upper hand or greater advantage in any type of dealing among parties.

A guy took his sister to a "Super Bowl" football game for the first time. After the game he asked her how she liked the game. "Oh, I really liked it," she said, "but I just couldn't understand though why they were hurting each other for 25 cents."

"What do you mean?"

"All they kept screaming was: Get the quarterback! Get the quarterback!"
